

Opulentus did commendable job

Dear friends, my association with Opulentus was rather strange. It was not preplanned at all. I still remember how my brother-in-law left for US after a week of their wedding. As my sister had no passport, he had no option other than to leave—due to hectic job schedule—however, gave all the required documentation to get a dependant visa.

We applied for a passport in Tatkal; now what next. In fact, words immigration, consulate etc sounded Greek and Latin to us. When we were discussing the same and heading back to our home after applying for a tatkal passport, we came across 'Opulentus-The Visa Company,' towards the right side.

This board was looked like an oasis to us. We immediately parked our vehicle and went inside. They were very welcoming. When I said we applied for tatkal passport, they said we should have done it long back. However, they assured us that there was no need for my sister to wait for months together for her husband to come back and take her with him.

Since all documentation was perfect, they said they would process the visa. In fact, they even guided as to how my sister should react at the visa interview. This was the crucial part as we don't have a clue about it.

After we got the passport, we again went to Opulentus and submitted all the documents. They accepted our case on priority basis and processed the visa immediately. Within a couple of weeks, my sister got dependant visa and was off to US.

Although things looked very complex, Opulentus handled the application in such a way that getting visa appeared certain and the same has happened. Many thanks to Opulentus.
